Chicago, Ill., April 10.—Theodore Roosevelt defeated President Taft in the presidential primary held in Illinois yesterday by a plurality vote of 124,000 and Speaker Champ Clark received a majority of more than 130,000 over Governor Woodrow Wilson, according to returns received up to seven o'clock this morning.

Deneen vs. Cullom. Charles Deneen has been nominated governor for the third consecutive term by the republicans. His plurality is estimated at 75,000. Edward S. Deneen, former mayor of Chicago, received the nomination for governor on the democratic ticket by a plurality close to 30,000. Owing to the length of the ballot it is expected that another twenty-four hours will be required to complete the count.

Practically complete returns from the city of Chicago and the estimate based on about one-half the vote in the state outside the city, give the following totals:

For president: Theodore Roosevelt, 230,000; Taft, 115,000; La Follette, 37,000. Roosevelt's plurality, 115,000. Democratic for president: Champ Clark, 220,000; Wilson, 80,000. Clark majority, 140,000.

Cullom is defeated. Lawrence Y. Sherman, president of the state board of administration, received the endorsement of the republicans for the United States senate over Shelby M. Cullom by a plurality estimated at over 30,000. James Hamilton Lewis had no opposition on the democratic ticket for the senatorial endorsement.

Joseph G. Cannon, former speaker of the house, was re-nominated for congress by a vote of two to one over his nearest competitor.

William McKinley, President Taft's campaign manager, who was re-nominated for congress in the Nineteenth district. The socialists and prohibitionists nominated a full state and congressional ticket.

Complete in Chicago. Complete unofficial returns for the city of Chicago gave Taft 44,167, Roosevelt, 22,413, La Follette, 12,163. Roosevelt's plurality 22,336. The total vote cast 128,053. NEW YORK PLATFORM EXHORTS DELEGATES TO VOTE FOR TAFT

Committee on Resolutions Urges Vote of Delegation for President Taft —Other Actions Taken.

[BY ASSOCIATED PRESS.]

Rocheater, N. Y., April 10.—Early today the committee on resolutions of the republican state convention completed its draft of the platform. In which the New York delegation to the national convention was urged to vote for the re-nomination of President Taft.

This action on part of the committee which was almost unanimous was taken to prevent a fight on the floor over the question of whether the four delegates at large should be specifically instructed or not.

The resolution committee nominated as delegates at large Senator Root, Chairman Barnes, William Herrell of Brooklyn, and Edwin A. Merrill, Jr., speaker of the assembly.

Temporary chairman Butler was made permanent chairman. State chairman Barnes read the platform which was made public last night, after the committee had finished its draft. One plank on the Sherman anti-trust law was not made public until this morning. It reads: "We believe inadequate laws to prevent monopoly in trade. We favor the retention of the Sherman anti-trust act, but that should be supplemented by further legislation to give the same certainty to the law controlling combinations and monopolies that characterizes other provisions of our commercial law, to the end that the field of business opportunity shall not be restricted by monopoly or combination; that business success honestly achieved may not be converted into crimes and that the right of all men to acquire commodity and particularly the necessities of life in an open market uninfluenced by the manipulation of trust or combinations may be preserved."

Undoubtedly by the fact that the resolutions committee did not incorporate into a woman's suffrage plank in the platform, representatives of the movement for the extension of the franchise today distributed circulars advocating woman rights before the hour for re-assembling. The convention was called to order about 11 o'clock.

The endorsement of President Taft brought general applause. Senator Root, seconded the resolution. He said he would confine himself to a single subject of a platform, the interference with the independence of the judiciary.

"We could change the tariff laws, questions of general public movement, he said 'but the eternal principle of justice can never be changed without degradation of the people. There is such a thing as justice that is above majority and independent of popular will,' said Senator Root.

Senator Root declared that all issues were minor in importance to the questions of the judicial system now before the people. "I am going to vote against the platform," said Controller William A. Prosser, said the Roosevelt delegate from King county.

He defended the initiative and referendum and recall and said that the recent presidential primary caused him to believe that President Taft could not be elected. The platform was adopted by a viva voce vote and the convention adjourned sine die.

COMPARES ROOSEVELT TO PONTIUS PILATE?

SENATOR JONES OF WASHINGTON MAKES STIRRING TALK TO SENATE TODAY.

[BY ASSOCIATED PRESS.]

Washington, April 10.—Col. Roosevelt was portrayed in the Senate today as the counterpart of Pontius Pilate. The picture was drawn by Senator Jones, of Washington, who sketched as the ground-work the recent Detroit speech of the former President condemning the votes of the majority members of the Lorimer committee, favorably to the Illinois Senator, as not being responsive to the sentiment of their constituents.

"This is the latest rule for judicial action suggested by this self-proclaimed leader of progress," said Senator Jones. "Because we have not followed it we are not progressive, but reactionary. This was the rule of action followed by Pilate nearly nineteen hundred years ago. This is the first time in the history of any civilized people that Pilate's duties of judicial action has met the approval of any man, save those who would crucify Jesus, and they despise him for following it."

"If former President Roosevelt had been standing on one side when Pilate delivered Jesus to the Jews, after having examined into the charges and found no fault in him, but at the demand of the people, turned him over to them for crucifixion, he would have clapped his hands and exclaimed 'Most Righteous, Most Honorable, Most Just Judge.' At least he would have done this if he had been as progressive then as he is now. I am charitable enough to believe, however, that he would have been a reactionary."

Senator Jones prefaced his speech by saying that those who expected to hear the sensational would be disappointed and that those expecting a discussion of the presidential campaign need not listen. He said he would not discuss politics. He rejected rapidly conditions which made the present time prosperous, but said that with everything to make us happy "we are engaged in a saturnal of political vituperation."

"Justice and fair dealing are thrown to the winds," he added. "Appeals to passion and prejudice displace reason and logic. 'Vileness' and corruption are sought for eagerly and we rejoice if we are successful in our search. Slander motive prompts those who disagree with us and none is good save ourselves."

"Under the banner of progression, anarchy is preached in homely phrase and fulsome flattery. Our sense of justice and fairness is dominated by loud declamation and incited by loud suggestion. Until a short time ago supposedly new ideas as old as governments among men, were advocated with some show of reason and prudence."

"A new Richmond, however, has rushed upon the political field. The real, consistent, faithful leader of radical political thought, whose courage, consistency and faithfulness we all admired, even if we did not accept the doctrines advocated, became ill and exhausted. The banner he was faithfully and bravely carrying was dropping."

"This new Richmond rushed upon the political scene, threw his hat in to the ring, and shouted to the wavering hordes to follow him in the high ways of progress and victory. Hoping to reap where others had sown, he sought to pluck the fruit of victory to his own bosom. His stand was won with the deepest and the principles of modern progress, he, with the recklessness of ignorance and the rashness of the now convert, is appealing to all that is base, selfish and unjust in the apparent hope of gratifying an insatiable ambition."

"Under his campaign for place and power he seems to have forgotten the honors bestowed upon him by his party and by the people of the country. He seems to be unmindful of the dignity and deportment of one who has filled the most exalted position in the gift of man. We expect (Continued on Page 6.)

SENIORS VOTE TO GIVE CLASS PLAY

High School Graduating Class Decide to Give Play First Night—Few Eligible.

At a meeting of the Senior class of the High School this morning during the opening period, it was decided to present a class play this year and have the class exercises come on the second day and the graduation on the third. This would do away with the pageant as given last year and put the play in its place.

In the matter of eligibility for the play Mr. Buell mentioned the fact that the Seniors must have completed forty-four terms of work by the end of the year. As yet the boys are much less numerous than the girls in meeting this requirement and only four or five are eligible. It has not been decided what play will be given or any of the other arrangements made as this was the first meeting of the class upon the subject.

MAKING ANNOTATIONS TO CITY ORDINANCES

Atty. William Ruger, Sr. Inventing References to Court Decisions on Municipal Corporations.

Attorney William Ruger, Sr., to whom was assigned the revision of the city ordinances, recently adopted by the common council in their revised form, is now at work annotating them with references to court decisions on questions involving municipal corporations. He will also insert annotations to the Wisconsin statutes bearing on the powers and rights of cities where they will throw light on the interpretation of the ordinances, but may delay that work until the statutes are revised as planned. As the common council soon passes out of power Mr. Ruger will probably consult the wishes of the new city council in this matter.

The condition of the Wisconsin statutes, says Mr. Ruger, is one of almost hopeless confusion. Although general laws have often been drawn which by implication nullify the provisions of previous laws on the same subjects, close analysis often discloses the fact that some provisions of the old statutes still hold good. The few exceptions are the laws drawn by the railway and tax commissions which are clear and definite and leave no opportunity for misunderstanding. The general run of legislation, especially that concerning municipalities, which has been repeatedly amended and modified, is full of contradictions, and absurdities, making it almost impossible to know just what is the law.

Mrs. Kemmerer leaves to mourn her departure, her husband, two daughters, Ida and Olive; her mother, Mrs. M. A. Laucke of Los Angeles; two sisters, Mrs. G. C. Field of Chicago and Mrs. G. B. Miller of Los Angeles; and two brothers, C. N. and Clark Laucke, of Chicago.

Funeral services will be conducted from the home at one o'clock Thursday afternoon. Interment will be in the Shuplers cemetery.

Mrs. Kemmerer was beloved as a wife and mother, and her helpfulness in the church and community, together with her fine traits of character won her many devoted friends. During the four years she had suffered falling health she showed unwavering patience and a cheerfulness that communicated itself to all who came in contact with her.

Mrs. Mary Mulcairn.
Requiem mass for Mrs. Mary Mulcairn was celebrated at nine o'clock yesterday morning in St. Patrick's Roman Catholic church, the Rev. Dean E. E. Reilly officiating. The pall bearers were the three sons of the deceased, John, Michael and Thomas Mulcairn, Jr.; her two sons-in-law, Martin Mulcairn and Otto Haggis, and Frank Prema. A large number of friends attended the funeral and brought many beautiful floral tokens of esteem and remembrance. Burial was made in Mt. Olivet cemetery.

Life's Mistakes.
How short-sighted we are in life, often letting friendships drop for the sake of, say, an occasional friendly letter.

AZY LIVER, BILIOUSNESS, HEADACHE COATED TONGUE OR A BAD LIVER

You men and women who somehow can't get feeling right—who have an almost daily headache, coated tongue, foul taste and foul breath, dizziness, can't sleep, are nervous and upset, bothered with a sick, gassy, disordered stomach, or have backache and feel all worn out.

Are you keeping clean inside with Cascarets—or merely forcing a passage-way every few days with salts, cathartic pills or castor oil? This is important. Cascarets immediately cleanse and regulate the stomach, remove the sour, undigested and fermenting food and foul gases; take the excess bile from the liver and carry off the decomposed waste matter and poison from the intestines and bowels.

A Cascaret tonight will straighten you out by morning—a pleasant box will keep your entire family feeling good for months. Don't forget the children—their little insides need a good, gentle cleansing, too.

TO SECURE ADEQUATE RAILWAY FACILITIES

Shippers Fearing National Disaster Move to Uphold Railways' Borrowing Credit.

New York, April 10.—A movement in the interest of shippers for the strengthening of the market for railway securities issued for increased facilities has been undertaken by the Chamber of Commerce of the State of New York, which is a third of a century ago, representing shippers, born a large part in the aggressive campaign for reform of railroad discriminations and abuses resulting in the creation of the Interstate Commerce Commission. A. Barton Hepburn, who was a central figure in the agitation for railway regulation at that time, held the gavel as President at the meeting when the present action was taken.

"The demand for cheaper transportation may be pressed to a point where it means national disaster," declared a Committee report presented by Samuel W. Fairchild, on which the action was based. The Committee having recited the vast sums of money, which will be necessary to provide adequate railway service, asks how investors are to be induced to put their savings into these new securities, and says that the answer depends upon whether the future attitude of the American people toward the railroads is to be one of hostility or of cooperation. At present, the report continues, "that attitude may be fairly described as follows:

"1. A demand for increased service better equipment, new terminals, faster transportation, more expensive provision for insuring safety.

"2. A demand for higher compensation for labor.

"3. A demand for cheaper rates of carriage for both passengers and freight.

Danger of Crippling Commerce.

"If this public pressure is continued, the credit of the railroads and their ability to market their securities will be impaired and the commerce of the nation crippled. The time has arrived when the business interests of the country should rally to the support of the railroads."

Need reforms have been removed. The principle of government regulation has been established. The rule of justice between individuals and communities and sections is being more and more liberally interpreted and protected. Many improvements and economies in service have been introduced. One thing more is needed, namely: a larger recognition of the right of railroad capital to an adequate reward. This problem concerns the shippers even more than the railroads, for they would be the chief sufferers from inability of the railroads to increase their facilities.

The following resolution was unanimously adopted at a meeting which fixed the capacity of the Chamber: Against Curtailing Railway Revenues

"The Chamber of Commerce of the State of New York, in the interest of shippers and of the well being of the country as a whole, urges upon the Interstate Commerce Commission and all State Railway Commissions the importance, for the future, of so carefully weighing and considering the effect to be produced upon the rate of interest on the making of any necessary readjustments of freight rates, that the same may be accomplished without further curtailing the total revenue of the railways, upon which their borrowing credit depends, bearing in mind, as stated by the Railroad Securities Commission, that a reasonable return is one which under honest accounting and responsible management, will attract the amount of investors' money needed for the development of our railroad facilities, and also bearing in mind that the development and prosperity of the railroads means development and prosperity of the country."

NEW FEATURES FOR ARBOR DAY ANNUAL

Fire Prevention Day to Be Added to Arbor and Bird Day in 1912 Annual to Lower Cost of Livings (SPECIAL TO THE GAZETTE.)

Madison, April 10.—How Arbor and Bird day and Fire Prevention day may help reduce the high cost of living is the lesson sought to be brought home to Wisconsin school children and others in the Arbor day annual issued by the state department of public instruction and compiled by O. S. Rice, state library clerk. The annual is for the first time joined with the fire prevention cause.

"If we knew the amount saveable annually by a wise forestry policy in reducing the cost of wood as a raw material in manufacturing industries," says the editor, "in lessening the cost of water power, and in lowering transportation charges on bulky commodities; if we knew the amount of annual loss to agriculture by insect pests which will be prevented by protection of bird life; and if we then were able to add to these amounts the two hundred million dollars of preventable fire loss, we should have a total annual saving of certainly not less than a billion dollars and possibly several times that amount. If this saving were equitably distributed there would be a substantial reduction in the cost of living for all."

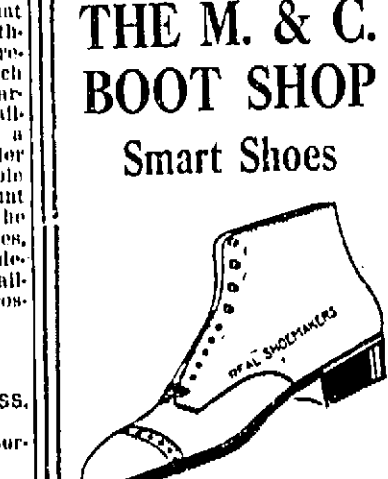

In the section of the annual devoted to fire prevention, insurance Commissioner H. L. Elborn writes of "Fire Waste the Enemy of All," and State Fire Marshal T. M. Purcell of "The work of his office. Facts and figures on all phases of the subject are appended. Mr. Purcell noted that Wisconsin's annual fire loss is about $4,000,000, enough each year to run four universities, and to pay for the cost of the new state capital in one and one-half years. The fire loss due to incendiarism has grown less each year," he says. In 1908 it was $120,990, in 1909 it was $66,755, and in 1910 it was reduced to $35,415.

The cover design of the annual is the work of George M. Nickedecken of Milwaukee and is illustrative of the state's natural resources. William H. Kemper of the United States forest products laboratory, Madison, writes of "Economy in the Use of Wood." State Forester E. M. Griffith tells how the public can assist in the prevention of fire and of fire prevention. Julia A. the state forest preserve. Julia A. the life and work of her father, the late Increase A. Lapham. An article on "Protection of Wild Animal Life" is contributed by E. A. Cleary of Portage. Edible mushrooms are described by C. E. Brown, Madison. Frederick Cranfield gives a list of trees and shrubs suitable for planting on school grounds. Roland E. Kremers writes of the Wisconsin Audubon society.

DAN MCCARTY -

England is to make another attempt this month to capture the amateur crown, tennis championship of the United States. Verne Pennell, one of the best amateur racquet players of England, is the English aspirant. He has been drawn against C. Russell of the Boston Tennis and Racquet Club in the opening round of the amateur championship beginning April 8 at the New York Racquet and Tennis Club. Pennell has been practicing here for nearly a week, although his presence in this country was not generally known.

When Jay Gould won the championship from England his hardest match was with Pennell. If the latter wins the championship tournament, he will play Gould for the title on April 12.

Ad Wolgast, champion lightweight, has so far recovered his strength that he announced that he would be ready on July 4 to take on any challenger for the title in a 20-round bout. "I believe I shall be fit to take on anybody who presents himself," said Wolgast. "I'll even give Packey McFarland a couple of pounds advantage."

Hughy Jennings, in spite of the fact that he is pretty badly broken up this year owing to the unfortunate automobile accident, is still to tell many interesting stories about his early days with the Baltimore Orioles.

"There was one catcher," said Jennings, "who worked a long time before anyone caught his signals." That was Wilbur Robinson. He backstopped twenty years without ever having an opposing player discover what he was signaling for.

One day St. Louis was catching for the Orioles. Harry Kane, a St. Louis pitcher, was lying on the bench while his team was at bat. Kane suddenly sat up. He said he could soon

JANESVILLE PLAYERS FOR KANSAS LEAGUE

Walter Ercan May Manage Team in Western State and Miller and Cronan May Sign Contracts.

Possibilities point strongly toward the loss in Janesville of three of the best ball players who, if present plans result as expected, will be signed with the Salina team of the Kansas state league. Manager Walter Ercan, who had charge of the Janesville team during the fore-part of last season, has been offered the berth as manager of the Salina team, and hopes to accept the position. He stated yesterday that if he took charge of the team out west he planned to take Cronan and Miller with him. Both are fast ball players, the former being one of the best men behind the bat in the city, and the other being a wonder at the keystone bag. Both are good batsmen and made a strong nucleus for the organization of the Janesville team last year.

Ercan stated yesterday that he had every hope of taking charge of the Kansas team and was scheduled to leave on April 24th or 25th. He went to Chicago this morning on business relative to the matter and expects to have things in readiness for his departure within a few days. His health is rather poor at present, and this may be the only drawback to this rather flattering offer. Ercan stated that he was largely responsible to "Chick" Frank, manager of the Decatur, Ill., team, formerly on the pitching staff of the Chicago Nationals, for his "find."

No Janesville Team.

Indications at present are that there will be no Janesville baseball team this season. Should Manager Ercan leave the city there seems to be no one who cares to go ahead with the work of organization and most of the local fans despair of arousing an enthusiasm here where so little interest has been shown in local aggregations in previous years.

Every effort was exerted last season to start out with a strong team and some first-class games were played in the early part of the spring and summer. Interest lagged, funds were lacking, and what at first looked like a promising Janesville ball team finally went to pieces for the rest of the season with the exception of a few post-season games played in the fall.

The talk of a trolley league which always comes up with astonishing regularity at this time of the year, has lived a short life this year. Last season it resulted in several conferences on the part of those interested, but the proposition was not thought of sufficient likelihood to call for even a preliminary meeting.

Perhaps there would be a sentiment against Sunday ball in the city or in the county that would be destructive, and it is very certain that Janesville does not seem able to support a professional, or a semi-pro team, for even one game a week.

Baseball interest there will in the end resolve itself into the support of a number of amateur teams which were quite active last season and which, unencumbered by financial embarrassment, have succeeded most successfully as far as true sport is concerned. Those teams include the Janesville Cardinals under the direction of Manager Cronan, the White Sox under Manager Siskney, and the Pirates under Manager Munthe. Other teams will doubtless be organized and there will be a number of stiff contests for the city championship as well as for the supremacy of the southern part of the state in the amateur class.

The Commercial league will no doubt be continued this season although plans are as yet unformulated.

BIG LEAGUE SEASON TO OPEN TOMORROW

Baseball fans all over the country are anxiously awaiting the opening of the big league season tomorrow afternoon. Many Janesville fans will go to Chicago to see the White Sox in their initial engagement of the season with the St. Louis Browns at Comiskey park. Mayor Harrison will throw the first ball and officially open the Chicago season. "Big Ed" Walsh will then begin the club work of the year.

In real earnest, The Chicago Cubs have gradually come northward and are at Cincinnati today for the game with the Cincinnati Reds tomorrow.

Results of the games in the National and American leagues will be received by fanboys at the Gazette office daily except Sundays. The scores will come at the end of every three innings until the end of the game when the total runs, hits and errors will be received and posted. The bulletin boards will be placed in the windows and as fast as the results come in will be placed on the boards. Final results of all the games will usually be in by six o'clock. The scores will also be posted in other places about the city where the fans may be accommodated.

There are still a number of the schedule cards left at the Gazette office which may be secured by asking at the editorial rooms. Fans will find them convenient things for reference and will use them to plan their trips to see the big games.

GUN CLUB HELD A SHOOT AT PARK GROUNDS TUESDAY

Local Organization of Shooters Plan to Hold Regular Weekly Meets Throughout Season.

There was a small attendance at the shoot of the Janesville Gun club held at the Janesville Park association grounds yesterday afternoon. The event yesterday was in the nature of a practice shoot for those who thought they needed it, but the regular meetings will be held each week on Friday afternoons throughout the season, according to the custom last year.

A. A. STARTS TENTH RACE FOR PENNANT

Schedule Calls for a Season of 168 Games—Minneapolis to Retain First Place.

Indianapolis, Ind., April 10.—While major league cohorts are absorbed in anticipation of the opening of the season in their respective circuits tomorrow, the fans of the American Association have their long anticipated opportunity today. Some of the less marked in point of interest and enthusiasm are the followers of Tom Clivington's effort, still on what promises to be the most successful of all A. A. seasons.

In the initial contests today Kansas City plays at Columbus, Milwaukee at Toledo, Minneapolis at Louisville and St. Paul in Indianapolis. The schedule calls for a season of 168 games, with September 23 as the date for the curtain to fall.

Reports from about the circuit indicate that the outlook is one of optimism, notwithstanding the fact that all of the teams were handicapped in their training by bad weather. Though the early opening date left little time to complete the work of preparation, the teams, swinging into action today with every indication pointing to a spirited race, and fans, Salina enthusiasts and followers of the Brewers, Cowboys, Millers, Senators, Colonels and Hoosiers all have their eyes towards an eventual pennant-winning team.

Minneapolis expects to cop its third successive pennant. Toledo, under the management of "Topsy" Hartwell, looks good to finish well to the front of the race. Milwaukee, Indianapolis and Kansas City will be surprised if they fail to finish in the first division. The real strength of the Columbus club has yet to be tested, and the Louisville and St. Paul teams have problems to solve before they can hope to win.

FANS ANTICIPATING COMMERCIAL LEAGUE

Ten Members of Organization Can Enter Teams This Year If They Desire—Officers to Meet Soon.

Members of the local Commercial League last year are beginning to discuss the question of games for this year, although they could not begin until the first Saturday in June when the factories give the half holidays. A new vice-president will have to be elected this year to take the place of Mr. Gollner, T. O. Howe remaining president, and J. C. Klue secretary and treasurer.

It is expected that as soon as F. F. Lewis returns a meeting of the organization officers will take place and something done toward starting the league for this year. It has not been ascertained yet which companies will have teams in the field this year as there has been no try-outs by any of them.

Last year was a most successful season, ending with the Parker Pen company, first; Y. M. C. A., second; and Hanson Furniture company, third. There are ten members of the organization who are eligible to enter teams, seven of them having had teams last year. Those who entered the running during last summer are planning on putting out winning teams this year and those who did not last year are going to make desperate efforts to collect a bunch to play the game in 1912. The members of the league are as follows: Parker Pen, Gasque, Hanson, Lewis, Kallings, Charles, Y. M. C. A. and Plumbers, all of whom had teams last year, while the other members are the Janesville Machine company, the Rock River Woolen Mills and the Southern Wisconsin Business college.

BOXING CONTEST TO BE HELD SHORTLY

Matchmaker Hockett to go to Chicago to Sign up the Contestants Tomorrow.

Monday, April 29th is the date set for the next boxing contest to be held under the auspices of the Janesville Athletic club. Matchmaker Robert Hockett leaves for Chicago tomorrow morning to sign up a 121 pound man to meet Young Cox in the preliminary. One for Kid De Munn at 135 pounds. A contestant for Pull Harrison of Chicago at 135 pounds and a man for the wind up at 142 pounds to meet Morehead of Milwaukee. Mr. Hockett has closed a contract for the West Side rink for the night of the 29th with the new Auditorium Company.

VICTORY WAS EASY FOR JUNIOR TEAM

Local Y. M. C. A. Boys Proved to be Superiors of Milton Junction Team at Basketball.

Victory was easy for the "B" Juniors of the Y. M. C. A. in the last basketball game of the season played with the Milton Junction high school team at the local gymnasium last evening. The score at the close of the game stood 32 to 4 in favor of the Juniors. The Milton kids were tall and husky but they had not mastered the science of the game and the local team played all around them at every stage of the performance. Not a field goal was allowed to the Miltonians as their four points were annexed by the free throw method. The game was an uninteresting one to watch owing to the inequality of the match. In the first half the Juniors were limited to five baskets, giving them a total of ten points, but in the last half they literally ran away from their opponents and piled up a total of eleven baskets against one free throw. The teams lined up as follows: MILTON JUNIORS: McKelvey, R.F.; Catlin will make a home out of one of the open farms in northern Wisconsin. Most of the land up there is stumps now, but given a few years hard work and a little time for the stumps to rot and the result will be as productive a farm as there is in Rock County.

I've got a quarter up there in Wood Co., 2 1/2 miles from a good town, that's a snap. I will sell it on terms to suit and at a price that you can't get away from.

MERELY A SAMPLE OF THE CONDITION

Prominent Physician Has to Clear Stairway to His Office of Impotent Loafers.

One of the samples of the conditions that exist in the down town district evenings was experienced last night when a prominent physician had to leave his office and literally beat four loafers who had congregated on the stairway leading to his office and refused to permit a woman patient from leaving. When she managed to walk by them they offered her an insult which was promptly avenged by the six young men completely out of the six ounce men completely out of the rooming. It was an example that should be taught the rank of loafers who congregate about the city and one which is in the province of the police to correct and should not be necessary for the taxpayers to do. The doctor in question is today receiving congratulations for his action which deserves the greatest praise. This is just an example of the conditions that exist about the city that has been commented upon in the editorial columns of the Gazette for several nights past.

Will a Man Succeed in Jansville?

This question is becoming common place, and argued by many pro and con, but it still remains indefinite in the minds of many who in themselves have found it neither one way nor the other. But let us give you our viewpoint of the question. A little better than two years ago, we opened up in our present location, occupying a very small space and with very little stock to begin. But by treating our patrons in a fitting manner and subjecting ourselves to the proper management of the business, economizing in every way possible, so as to sell our goods at reasonable prices, thus saving our customers money and gaining their continued patronage, we have added to our room, increased our stock and had, in the near future, to establish a store for the people on a much larger scale than at present.

Of course, we are succeeding and we hope to continue at it. What the people of Jansville want is a "Honest Deal." You can a square deal here. Make us a call.

OFFSET UNDER LAW GIVEN PROMINENCE

More Important Than Deduction Says The Tax Commission.

In view of the fact that a misanderstanding exists in the minds of many regarding the application of the deduction and offset features of the income tax law, the tax commission yesterday prepared and gave out the following statement and illustration of a concrete test:

"In the first place a person may deduct certain taxes from gross income in order to compute his net income. This is the tax deduction. Secondly, he may credit his personal property tax against his income tax, dollar for dollar. This is the personal offset. The offset is plainly much more important than the deduction."

"The deduction includes all taxes, both real and personal, assessed in 1911 against property and business from which income has been derived. The offset includes those taxes which will be assessed on personal property in the year 1912."

"Take a farmer with a wife and three children under 18 years of age, whose net income in 1911—above taxes—was $5,000. Suppose that in 1911 his farm (as real estate) was taxed $50 and his farm animals (as personal property) $20. The net income on which he would be taxable is $5,000 minus an $1,800 exemption for himself, wife and children, minus the $50 tax on his farm, minus $20 on his farm animals, or $3,130. The income tax on $3,130 is $39.78. When he

Kindergarten Party.
The Misses Hatch and Phillips, kindergarten teachers, and forty-three kindergarten children gave Ray Leo a very pleasant birthday surprise Monday morning at 10:30. Miss Hatch took the children for a walk which ended, as previously planned, at the Leo home. When they arrived there they found a beautiful big white birthday cake decorated with six tiny candles. Delightful refreshments were served amid much chatter and fun and then all returned to the kindergarten rooms at 11:30.

HEART AND HOME TALKS

BY BARBARA BOYD

Homes for the Working People to be Built by the State

GOVERNMENT for the people, and not for politicians and privileged classes, actually seems to be coming. Its approach is very gradual, perhaps so as not to cause heart failure from the surprise of it. And though the present high cost of living, freight rates, express charges, etc., doesn't seem much like it, still here and there are indications that it is on the way.

And one of these indications is the plan being considered in Massachusetts of providing homes for working people by the State. It is a form of paternalism, to be sure, and some people object to paternalism. And if the affairs of this world were conducted so that every one resolved what was his due, he would undoubtedly be able to build his own home. But this doesn't happen to be the case at present. Things are not as they ought to be, and we have to take them as they are. So this proposal of the State of Massachusetts to supply homes for working people is a step toward government for the people.

It is in a way an extension of the Homestead Act, by which in years past, land was given to the people for a nominal price. There is now very little more land, comparatively speaking, to be distributed, and so government is turning its attention to the more concrete form of the home, the actual house.

The Commission created by the State is authorized to buy tracts of land for the purpose of providing homes for mechanics, laborers, or other wage-earners, and to have authority to subdivide, improve, build upon, lease, rent, sell, or re-purchase, manage, and care for said tracts and the buildings constructed thereon.

Although the work is somewhat of a departure for our government, it has been a feature of many European governments, and is quite successful in England, Ireland, Scotland, France, Germany, and most of the other European countries, in the several states of Australia, in New Zealand, in Brazil and Chili.

The need of such work is well set forth by Charles F. Gettemy, Chairman of the Commission, in a bulletin he has issued, in which he says, "In every large city, thousands are fostering in over-crowded, unsanitary tenements, breeding vice, crime, disease, and ignorance, and transmitting to successive generations, constitutions more and more enfeebled and debilitated, and natures more and more debased and demoralized. The evils grow with the growth of cities, and while inventive genius is enriching the world by multiplying labor-saving machinery, slum areas are enlarging, and their submerged population constantly increasing in numbers. Everywhere in the older countries, the conditions are the same, and the newer lands present similar conditions soon after settlement. The evil effects appear in the high death-rate of infants, and in the increasing number of inmates of hospitals, asylums, almshouses, insane hospitals, and penal institutions."

This is the need, and we see it all about us. And so any step that will practically and humanely relieve such a condition is worth while. It may not be just the direction in which some want government to go. But while they are trying to head the ship of state into the course they wish, the people perish. They need not relax their efforts to make government what they want it to be. But neither should they prevent the people from being properly cared for, while government is being moulded according to their ideas.

This certainly is a step toward the people's comfort and happiness, and it would seem as if everyone, irrespective of party prejudice, should further it. And it is not only humanitarian, but it is essentially practical. For just as quickly as slums and over-crowded tenements are obliterated, and the people who are compelled to exist in such conditions, given fair surroundings, "our" jails and penitentiaries and asylums will be thinned out, and taxes lightened. So that it works for the good of all of us. Though even if none but the children of the slums were benefited, this in itself would be sufficient reason for the effort.

The Evening Chit-Chat

BY RUTH CAMERON

RIGHT in our very respectable neighborhood there lives a woman who is a cruelly abused slave. No, not a slave in the old sense, nor a slave in the new sense of "white slaves," nor even a slave to her husband or children. This woman is simply what I call an obsession slave.

What is she? She is the unhappy and tortured victim of the obsession which she herself sets up as masters over herself.

Do I fall to make myself clear? Well, suppose I become concrete. This woman has a very kind and devoted husband. He is occasionally called away on business trips and, on the last trip, his customary bi-weekly letter failed to come on one occasion. His wife at once became obsessed of the idea that he did not love her any longer. She brooded over this idea, amassed evidence to prove it, became absolutely convinced of it, and in the few days in which she did not hear from him, actually worked herself almost sick. At the end of the week two letters came together; the first had her all the time that something like this was the cause of the delay, but she was so completely under the domination of her obsession that she could not use her reason or her common sense.

So much for one example of her slavery. She has other obsessions on many other subjects, and I find her in the enslaved state daily often.

This woman is an exaggerated case of obsession slavery, but I think a great many of us suffer in lesser degrees from this mental disease. For that is what it is, a disease from the mind. And that is not healthy or normal. We get an idea that we are going to lose our position; that some dear one no longer loves us; that we are losing our mental keenness, or our grip on business, or our ability in some direction; that people dislike us or regard us with aversion; and we begin to hunt for evidence to support this idea. And in this kind of hunting one is always sure of finding plenty of game.

By and by something happens to completely disprove our fears. Our employer gives us an unasked raise; the loved one offers some unusual and unmistakable proof of affection; we demonstrate our mental power or our grip on business or our talent, in some way indisputable even to ourselves; or we are brought face to face with some unexpected proof of our popularity; and then we say, "I'll never be so foolish again." And we are not—until the next time.

What's the cure for this common disease? Well the best cure, as for all diseases, is prevention. Care it before you have it. Don't let yourself get into this habit of mind. When you find yourself brooding over anything like this, take your mind "by the scruff of the neck," as Arnold Bennett says, and put it on some other subject. Do this a hundred times, if necessary. You will never regret the effort.

"But what if the disease is already started?" some unhappy victim asks. Well, then, administer the same treatment, only more so. Furthermore, when you have found that one of these obsessions was utterly foolish, write down that fact and keep the document where you can see it when the next attack starts. Don't let your attacks get under way. Skip them in the bud. And, don't give yourself time to brood. Keep busy working and playing and being happy. When you feel an attack coming on, go out into God's serene outdoors and try to absorb some of its serenity. Take a long walk; try to get your body healthy and your mind will get some of the benefit. Go and call on some cheerful friend who will give you the contagion of his optimism, or visit some one less fortunate than you whose real troubles will shame your imaginary ones.

Christmas Makes Demand.

The German demand for apples and nuts to hang on Christmas trees is always very great. The inland production of apples, even in a favorable year, although large, is far too small for the demand, in spite of the fact that thousands of acres of new trees are planted each year. In order to supply the inland market, large quantities of apples and nuts must be imported from abroad each year.

VEGETARIAN DISHES.

For those of our readers who find it pleasant and profitable to subsist on fruits, grains and vegetables, the following suggestions may be helpful:

For breakfast food there is now more wholesome or tasty than wheat cooked until it cracks open, served with cream and sugar. Ham and rice are also good, as is farina and cornmeal mush.

The numbers of soups that may be prepared without meat are many, the nourishing cream soups and those of nuts and vegetables are fully as satisfying as soups prepared from meat.

Navy Bean Soup.—Cook together a cup of beans and a slice of onion; add five cups of water and simmer until the bean may be put through a sieve. Season and serve with the addition of butter.

Tomato Souffle.—Take a cup of strained tomato, add five cups of water, a half cup of peanut butter, three-fourths of a teaspoonful of salt. Cook all together until well blended. Salt, if needed, and serve.

Creole Soup.—Cook together a small carrot, a small turnip, a large onion, two tablespoonfuls of rice and a pint of water. When all the ingredients are tender stir through a sieve. Add a cup of tomato, season and serve.

Fruit Salad a la Creme.—To a cup of sliced pineapple add a cup of seeded grapes and a large banana. Over this fruit pour the following dressing: Cook together two tablespoonfuls each of butter and flour, half a cup of lemon juice, three beaten yolks, two tablespoonfuls of sugar, a cup of cream and a fourth of a teaspoonful of salt. Cool and add whipped cream.

Make a circle of cold baked beans, in the center put a stuffing of bread crumbs, seasoned with sage, onion juice, butter, salt and celery. Mix with an egg and cover the stuffing with the beans; bake and serve hot.

Would See Things Differently. Socrates was of opinion that, if we laid all our adversities and misfortunes in one common heap, with this condition, that each one should carry out of it an equal portion, most men would be glad to take up their own again.—Plutarch.

BLACK AND WHITE EASTER CREATION

A pretty model of an Easter creation, made of white liberty satin underdress. A tulle of black net, embroidered in white silk, flows crystal and milk beads, traced in exquisite design.

The black panel is embroidered in black tulle and black cut beads. The little lace trim for the sleeve is very becoming. The whole effect is finished with a small bunch of pink roses, tucked in the belt.

Odd Method of Spite.

A man in Temesvar, Hungary, who was summoned the other day for assaulting a neighbor, pleaded that the latter had to spite him by buying a new hat for his wife every month, so that he was obliged to do the same for his own wife.

Heart and Home Problems

MRS. ELIZABETH THOMPSON

Dear Mrs. Thompson: (1. We are a club of girls, some of whom are employed in a silk mill and some in a store. Will you please suggest a name for our club? (2) Would orange and black, or blue and red be good colors for us? (3) What is the birthstone for September, and what color is it? (4) How long should a girl of eighteen wear her dress? CLARA GILLES.

(1) Not knowing the purpose of your club I cannot suggest a significant name for it, but it occurs to me that "The Blue-bird club" would be a title appropriate in almost any case. There is a play by Maeterlinck called "The Blue Bird," in which the blue bird signifies happiness. I would recommend that you get this book from the library and read it together. This would help to suggest to you what happiness really is. (2) Either set of colors forms a suitable combination, but if you choose "The Blue Bird" for the name of your club, blue alone or blue and white would be more appropriate colors. (3) The birthstone for September is the sapphire, and its color is deep, clear blue. (4) Just below the knee tops.

Dear Mrs. Thompson: Will you please give me a recipe for making cream puffs? MRS. HAY.

I published this recipe a few days ago, but if you failed to see it, I will send it to you upon receipt of an addressed stamped envelope.

Dear Mrs. Thompson, I have a neighbor, a man with four children, who has married again. The oldest child is ten years and the youngest is three. Both he and the stepmother go away leaving the children by themselves for hours at a time, day or night. We neighbors are "up in arms" about it. What can be done? A SUBSCRIBER.

If the father is not man enough to be appealed to as a father, I should say that it was a matter to bring to the attention of the police.

Dear Mrs. Thompson: (1) Is a lady in company with a young man supposed to address his friends if she is not acquainted with them? (2) Is it proper for a girl of sixteen to answer postcards or letters from young men out of town whom she has known about six months? E. H.

(1) No, not until she has been introduced to them. (2) Yes, so long as cards and letters passed between them are discreet, and so long as the young man in each case continues to keep her respect.

Dear Mrs. Thompson: I am a young man of twenty-two, and am deeply in love with a girl my own age who has consented to marry me. Before I met the girl I made a wager with a relative of mine that I would not be married within a certain length of time. Now I am undecided whether or not I would be right for me to reveal the wager.

The date of the wedding should be fixed by the bride, with no reference to your wager. If she is in no hurry, there is no hurry in your winning.

How about that garden? Of course, if you insist upon living in a flat, there is no garden question for you. You've got to buy what you can at the grocery's and you'll never know the taste of fresh green things straight from contact with Mother Earth—the things that taste the sweetest because of your own thought and labor that have gone into the making of them.

In every city there is good ground going to waste—plenty of good garden ground. Not only is good ground wasted, but plenty of perfectly good muscle and energy go to waste.

Connect the muscle and energy with the wasted ground, and there will be worthwhile results. Keep them separated, and there will be more work for the juvenile courts, to say nothing of a continued high cost of living.

Only a lazy person will say that there is too much work in the keeping of a city garden.

The greatest amount of work is in the beginning when the ground must be spaded and raked fine, it isn't hard work to plant, and if you don't let the weeds get ahead of you in the beginning, you will find there is very little weeding to do. The hardest work outside of the occasional spading up to replant, is watching the vegetables grow, picking what you want to eat, and waiting them.

The city backyard gardener has two advantages over the country gardener. One is that his space is small enough for him to work every inch of it by hand and keep a strict watch over it so that bugs and weeds and plant disease may make no headway. He has less space to weed and cultivate, while getting much greater returns from the ground that is worked.

The other advantage is that the city gardener has the great boon of city water. The man with the hose can get more out of his little backyard garden than the man who waits for the rain can get by the mere.

The great secret of the French gardeners, who do more with their tiny gardens than gardeners of any other nationality, is their profuse use of water. The truck gardeners here are beginning to understand this and are laying perforated pipe through their grounds, about a foot below the surface. Into these pipes the water is forced and gradually percolates through the soil feeding the roots of the plants and making them grow twice as fast as under ordinary circumstances.

In watering your garden, however, don't drown it out. Use the hose only in the evening or very early in the morning and then give the plants a thorough soaking. They will not need it every day.

To interest the children give each one a little bit of garden for himself.

Always Tired, With Little Vitality

Modern Tonic, Tona Vita, Will Surely Build You Up Again.

Are you one of the run-down, half sick nervous people with which the country is filled? Do you feel tired all the time with very little vitality? Do you sleep badly and feel as worn out in the morning as when you went to bed? Is your circulation poor and do you catch cold easily? Have you stomach trouble and an irregular appetite? Are you nervous, moody and depressed?

These are sure symptoms of nervous debility. If you are struggling along in this miserable condition the best thing you can possibly do for yourself is to take "Tona Vita" the wonderful new tonic that has the unqualified endorsement of more physicians than any other medicine ever before offered to the public.

Here is what the Hon. Gustavo Frederick, pastor of the Evangelical church, Center Street, Milwaukee, Wis., has to say of it.

"Judging from my own experience I do not hesitate to say that 'Tona Vita' is an extremely valuable preparation. I have not only used it myself, but other members of the family have been taking it with highly satisfactory results.

"So far as my own case is concerned I have been in a run-down condition for a year or so, being easily and being troubled with sleeplessness. I lacked vitality and caught cold readily, and my digestion and appetite were poor. I was depressed in mind and body and very nervous.

"I now feel stronger than for a long time. I have more energy and my work is done with much less effort. I sleep and eat better and feel as though rejuvenated.

"Tona Vita acts quickly. You will be surprised how rapidly it will build you up.

DIET AND HEALTH HINTS

By Dr. T. J. ALLEN Food Specialist

TIME BETWEEN MEALS.

"Whenever the stomach can not empty itself in seven hours after a full-sized meal," says Dr. J. W. Wainstein (Medical Record), it is a case where the motor power of the stomach is impaired, or of motor insufficiency. Cases in which the stomach does not empty in five hours, the average time between breakfast and luncheon, or between luncheon and dinner, are very common, and as the residue of food must interfere with the digestion of the fresh meal, this is one of the commonest causes of digestive derangement and of disease in general. If only two meals are eaten daily this is avoided. It is important that when circumstances permit, a period of seven hours be allowed between meals. It has been the practice of the writer and of many others for years to eat at ten and five daily. If the value of this practice were generally recognized conditions would be adapted to it.

A little wait and brings big results. Wait and bring results.

BAPTIST MEN'S CLUB ENTERTAINED LADIES

OVER ONE HUNDRED SAT DOWN TO FINAL BANQUET OF CLUB.

WILL CONTINUE CLUB

Warren Gray Chosen As Leader for First Meeting Next Year—Mr. and Mrs. T. S. Nolan Presented With Flowers.

The Men's Club of the Baptist church, last evening held their annual Ladies' Night, followed by a program which proved to be one of the most enjoyable in the history of the club. An excellent supper was served by the ladies of the church, and the young ladies of the church acting as waitresses, and the following menu was placed before the guests:

Salmon Turbot	Potato Pluff
Pears in Timbales
Pickles	Olives
Hot Rolls	Coffee
Salad	Wafers
Ice Cream	Cake

At the conclusion of the supper the Sunday School Orchestra was called upon for a selection and was forced to respond in an encore. Rev. J. C. Hazen, as chairman of the occasion, called for business to come before the club and after the unanimous expression of the club in favor of continuing their existence next year, Mr. Warren Gray was chosen to act as the leader of the first meeting. A committee was then appointed to take charge of the necessary arrangements for this occasion. Upon the motion of one of the members of the club, a hearty vote of thanks was then given to the ladies of the church who have furnished the supper for the banquet held during the past year in such a pleasing and tasteful manner.

E. C. Taylor was then called upon as the first speaker on the program to say a few words on the subject of "Our Guests." After dwelling in an entertaining manner upon the subject in hand he concluded his speech with the toast, "Here's to the ladies, may they never change."

"Our Club" was the subject assigned to J. B. Humphrey, and in a few well chosen words he showed the benefits of the club to the individuals and its purposes as a part of the church and a factor in the mission of the church.

At the conclusion of his speech Miss Ruth Humphrey, by request, spoke "Pro Patria." In her usual delightful manner and with such effect that she was forced to respond to an encore. Her selection was of such a pleasing character and her interpretation of the selection was so effective that she was given rounds of the heartiest applause by the appreciative audience.

In speaking on the subject, "Our Church," O. D. Antkowiak, who came next on the program, brought out the fact that the church was a window through which men in the world see the light. Although the subject might have been taken to mean either the individual church in which he then was, or the Baptist denomination, he chose to regard it as having reference to the Christian church as a whole, all denominations included. He spoke of our place as laymen in the church and the position we should occupy in that capacity. The problem of the church was not only to teach its members of a future salvation, but it should teach them how to live now while on earth.

While the church was formerly a social center and a meeting place for social as well as religious purposes, there had been a great change lately, and it now has the problems of city life and of the many things pertaining to city life to solve and overcome. He concluded his remarks by speaking of the value of consistency in church work.

The orchestra again delighted the club with a selection, following which T. S. Nolan spoke a few words about "Our City" as he looked at it after many years of residence here. The main idea which ran through his talk was that the city was, and always would be, just what the people who live here want it to be. The black spots on the map of Janesville would not be allowed to exist if the people did not encourage them and make their existence possible. He also spoke of the benefits of the church clubs to the city and of their part in the uplifting of the morals of the city in their capacity of a strong auxiliary to the churches and their efforts. He ended his talk by commending the work of the Baptist Men's Club and his work as he has known it during the past few years.

In view of the fact that Mr. Nolan is soon to leave the city and that this was his last attendance at the club meetings, J. J. Jones was called upon to express the feelings of the club in regard to the loss of its respected member, and he did so in a most commendable manner, ending with a poem of unknown authorship, upon the career of Mr. Nolan. Mrs. J. S. Taylor, in a few well chosen words then spoke of the feeling of the ladies concerning the departure of Mr. Nolan and presented them with a bouquet of roses as a memento of the friendship and esteem of their many friends.

FARMERS IN FIELDS, SPRING-WORK BEGUN

Time for Working on the Land Already Long Delayed is Now at Hand and Busy Season Starts.

Plows which were sharpened the early part of March are only now being given their first try-out on the 1912 season. Farmers are eager to get to work, however, and where the land is high and dry work has been begun in real earnest. From all sides of the city comes the report that plows are in the fields the warmth of Easter Monday proving to be an irresistible incentive.

This has been a backward spring for Wisconsin, but not as backward as some years and with the present favorable conditions seeding may be completed with ease well before the end of the month. The spring work will be very backward in other sections of the country, according to reports. It is stated that Kansas farmers will make no endeavor to raise an oat crop as they have been unable to do anything on the land up to the present. This would make the season too uncertain as the dry winds are due about the time the oats would be heading if they were planted now. It is probable that the spring wheat crop will be much later this year and in the flood sections of the Mississippi and Missouri it is probable that nothing will be done on the land for weeks.

Farmers are at work early in the Canadian Northwest, however, and the majority of the farmers in the vicinity of Brandon, Manitoba, began plowing this week. The weather is reported very favorable.

PROGRAM ANNOUNCED FOR LADIES' NIGHT

Annual Closing Banquet of Twilight Club Will Be Held Next Tuesday Evening at Y. M. C. A.

The Rev. J. W. Laughlin, leader of the ladies' night meeting of the Twilight club, has announced the program for the event which will be held next Tuesday evening at the Y. M. C. A. auditorium. The banquet will be served at 6:45 and the half hour previous will be given over to a reception which will be held in the reception room below. The banquet hall will be elaborately decorated for the event, the arrangements being in the hands of a special committee appointed at the last meeting. The program which will follow the banquet will be on topics of current interest as follows:

"The Peace Conference"..... Mrs. Janet B. Day
"The Opening of the Panama Canal"..... Mr. W. H. Dougherty
"A Menace to Civilization"..... Mr. Andrew Gibbons
"The Awakening of the Public Conscience"..... Miss Julia Lovejoy
"The Burial of the Maine"..... Mr. W. S. Jeffers
"The Conservation of our National Resources"..... Mr. J. B. Humphrey
Music by the Lotus male quartet.

At this meeting there will be given the report of the special committee named to formulate a plan by which the Twilight club may aid in beautifying the city. Last year the school children's contest proved very successful and a similar proposal may be presented for adoption this season.

NOTES FOR BOY SCOUTS.

Some Good Turns Which the Boys Have Done Elsewhere and Their Interest in Scout Work.

Thomas R. G. Jones, South Side, Easton, Pa., writes the following incident at quick work and first aid by one of his scouts: "One of our scouts is a meter reader. He happened to be sent to a home. When he arrived there the gas had sprung a leak into the street and followed the pipe into the house. The house was filled with gas fumes and made the mother and the two children unconscious. They were revived after sending for a doctor. The scout gave first aid and opened all the windows. He then ran to the nearest telephone and called on the Gas company and explained the circumstances to them. That night he was complimented by and called upon the Gas company and for his clever work."

E. W. Donagan of Alden, New York, gives an interesting incident of the work done under the influence of the scout movement. He tells of twenty-six scouts who were on their way to school. "Just as the school bell rang a horse fell and the driver was an old man and a cripple. Two of my boys rushed to him and told him to remain seated, one of the boys held the horse by the head and the other unlatched him, got him on his feet and led him up again. As they turned to go into the school they noticed that their teachers were watching them and they half expected a reprimand. Instead they were congratulated as Boy Scouts."

Interest in Scouting.

L. N. Smiley, secretary of the local council of the Boy Scouts of America in Sayre, Pa., gives an interesting example of how boys like scouting. In a letter he writes: "The first troop of Boy Scouts was organized in Sayre, Pa., about a year ago this time with nine boys, I think. We now have sixty-five on the roll and more coming in now. We have four troops with nine, twelve, and sixteen members, one assistant scout-master, a local council with the regular officers and each troop meets once a week in the town or city hall in two rooms donated by the town authorities, each troop meeting on a different night. We use one room for studying and the other one is used as a sort of playroom which is fitted up with a mat for wrestling or tumbling, boxing gloves, the horse, traveling rings and a few other small articles to get a little exercise with. The local council meets about once a month with representatives of the following churches: Three from the Baptist church, two from the First M. E. church, two from the Presbyterian and one from the Disciple church. Out of the sixty-five boys we have about ten first-class; fifty, second; and the balance are tenderfeet."

SIDEWALK SKETCHES.

THE HORSE

By Howard L. Hann.

THE horse is a prehistoric animal which is vanishing from public circles faster than the use of the horse upon the farm. There was a time when society looked upon the horse as its sole mode of transportation, but now the horse belongs upon the society at the rate of $15 a month at the livery stable. Unless the automobile industry is stopped on by a live panic, inside of five years all that will be left of the horse will be the form-fitting hair matress and a few similar by-products. The horse is the only kind of stock which can be watered.

Horses are now used mainly by people who are not particular about getting anywhere the same week, and who wish to be sure that when they arrive all the members of their anatomy will be able to answer to roll call. There are several different styles of horses. The lady's driving mare is a horse which can be driven with perfect safety by any woman who does not fear death in any form. The cab horse is a rare old edition in a chronic state of inflammatory rheumatism, and is getting harder to find than brotherly love in a loan shark. The saddle horse is a flowery mammoth which is used by the members of the Four Hundred as a petted substitute for poison gum and other aids to digestion. The trotting horse is a mild frame-up which is commonly sandwiched in between the art hall and the balloon ascension at the county fair. The pacer is a horse with rotary action and side-delivery attachment, and when viewed from the seat of a top buggy is apt to provoke ridicule and sickness. Trotting horses is a sublimous pastime which enables some traitful brother to cut his eye teeth at slight expense, and thus prepares him for the practical work of skinning others along the pathway of life.

We own a number of claims on cities and towns—the claims are divided into parts, or Bonds, of $500.00 or $1,000 each, and these bonds are accepted by the U. S. Government as security for deposits made by its Postal Savings Banks.

That makes these particular bonds as desirable as are Government Bonds—for what one wants to know about a bond is not "Can I buy it?" but "Can I sell it?"

Government Bonds are turned at once into money at any bank—and these city and town bonds which we now offer you are sold readily, for they are approved and accepted by the Government, and are growing in popularity every day.

From an income standpoint, these particular bonds are three times as desirable as Government Bonds for they pay 5%, 5 1/2% interest (interest paid every six months).

In these bonds we give you—the individual—the absolute security and excellent interest rate that is obtained by a millionaire or by a bank—each of whom has large sums to place on interest and hence can take advantage of exceptional investments.

You will own 1 or 2 or 3 bonds on a certain town—and your associate in the whole claim will be perhaps a National Bank.

Why Should a Chicken Lay a Soft-Shelled Egg?

Because, Willie, the chicken don't know how to create a hard shelled egg unless it has some food with lime in it.

So chicken-raisers often provide limestone gravel, broken oyster shells or some other form of lime.

Let the chicken wander free and it finds its own food and behaves sensibly.

Shut it up and feed stuff lacking lime and the eggs are soft-shelled.

Let's step from chickens to human beings.

If the food is deficient in Phosphate of Potash the gray matter in the nerve centres and brain cannot be rebuilt each day to make good the cells broken down by the activities of yesterday.

Phosphate of Potash is the most important element Nature demands to unite albumen and water to make gray matter.

SHE'S HAPPY AGAIN

The lady with the sad face—who was sore down-hearted and disappointed is again herself—happy and content. She has gone back to her old reliable Calumet Baking Powder.

Her failure to produce her accustomed good, old-time baking dated back to the day she bought the cheap and Big Can Kind.

The trouble wasn't hard to locate—it wasn't hard to remedy, but the experience cost her no end of worry—not to mention the cost of much spoiled materials.

But now everything is lovely. Her reputation as a cook has been sustained.

Calumet Baking Powder is again making her pies, cakes, biscuits and other pastry, crisp, light and delicious as usual.

This was her second unpleasant experience with baking powders. It will undoubtedly be her last, for it taught her this valuable lesson—

1st—The folly of paying 45 to 50 cents a pound for the Trust Brand, when she could buy Calumet—a superior brand for 25 cents a pound.

2nd—The false economy of Cheap and "Big Can" Kinds.

Moral: There's a happy medium in everything. The happy medium in baking power is Calumet, the best baking medium at a medium price, 25 cents the pound.

UNCLE WALT The Post Philosopher

BY WALT MASON

The Poles, which had been lost for ages, discovered are at last; brave men, toiled on by weary stages, through snow and howling blast, with frozen feet and cheeks they hurried, with frozen hands and ears, and solved the problem which had worried the world a thousand years. And terrors drove them forth to greet them, and dangers thronged the way; and danger hours off tried to eat them, as horses eat their hay. The arctic night came down and found them intrepid in the gloom; and arctic phantoms shrieked around them, and wailed of death and doom. Yet uncomplaining and undaunted all these horrors, until they found the poles they wanted, and shipped the blundered things home. Thus victory comes to the bidder who pays the price of toll; and I'm ashamed when I consider how I make huge turmoil over little obstacles that face me when I'm task pursued; I plainly see it must disgrace me to make a howl of it. So after this I'll be like Peary and Amundsen the bold, and struggle on, though heart be weary, and both my feet are cold.
